

With the biting-cold weather now retreating, and hints of snowdrops and daffodils popping up all over the country, let's hope this is the beginning of spring and a year when we can enjoy our cars to the fullest. After all, we have some catching-up to do. Have you found that your car has benefitted from the year off? Have you been tinkering and modifying it in ways you perhaps wouldn't have if you hadn't been in lockdown? Let us know the positive ways you, and your car, have benefitted over the last year. You can send them to enjoyingmg@mgownersclub.co.uk with a photo and it might just feature on this page.

WORKSHOP DIARY

MGB Re-trim

This 1971 MGB is in for new magnolia leather trim, biscuit carpets and full-leather and walnut console. It all looks lovely but is a mechanic's nightmare when it comes to the installation!

Metallic Golden Beige MGC

The very rare MGC we featured last month is still with us being lovingly restored for the owner. This month we moved onto the interior and it is coming along very nicely.

ZS Corrosion

This 2002 MG ZS 180 came to us with some paint issues to the roof and the area at the top of the tailgate. As you can see, once the surface paint is removed, there is often a lot more corrosion, leading to further bodywork repairs.
